

8/7/22

The Honorable Martin Glenn
United States Bankruptcy Court
Southern District Of New York
One Bowling Green New York, NY 10004

Re: Case # 22-10964, Celsius Network LLC., et al.

Subject: Request to opportunity to withdraw USDC Stable Coins

Dear Honorable Martin Glenn:

I'm writing this letter on behalf of several thousands of Celsius USDC depositors who deposited their entire hard-earned life savings. With rising inflation and lower bank interest rate, many of us are consumers were looking for an alternate-options. Celsius attracted us with their AMAs and extreme influence through various influencers, made us believe that it is a centralized financial bank to earn higher interests.

Many of us have converted our hard-earned savings into USDC stable coins to earn interest and fight inflation. We were merely using this as a savings account to earn interest (No loans, nothing else)

Celsius filing bankruptcy has a detrimental impact on many of our lives including taking care of day-to-day expenses, pay for medical expenses, kids' college education, family relationships, divorces, domestic expenses, and many more.

For a consumer, USDC was deemed as stable coin and pegged to the US dollar and many of us believed that there were NO risks involved with USDC and most of the risks are with other Crypto assets

While evaluating the case, I request the honorable judge to consider the factors that led to driving a consumer like me to trust Celsius and transfer all of our entire life savings into the USDC Celsius account.

I sincerely request you to offer retail users the opportunity to withdraw our hard-earned savings deposited as USDC stable coin immediately.

Thanks for your consideration

Sincerely

N. (Anonymous)